

cultivating healthier workplaces and communities through the power of fresh food

Is your community missing out on fresh food?

Many modern communities lack convenient access to fresh, whole, healthy food. We set out to change that—not just by delivering farm-fresh produce, but by getting community members involved in the full experience of growing their own food, sharing the work, and enjoying the fruits of their labor.

We are Alfrea and we're on a mission to cultivate healthier, happier communities through the power of fresh food.

Because fresh food changes everything.

ALFREA

What we do

Fresh food delivery and so much more.

When your community teams up with Alfreea, you give your members multiple opportunities to eat and enjoy fresh, whole food—right in their own backyard.

Community CSA

Get farm-fresh produce delivered to your front door.

If your company or community sits within a 2-hour radius of Philadelphia, you can take part in our custom CSA. Unlike other delivery services, we allow individuals to customize their very own produce box. Get fresh fruits and veggies from 120 local farmers delivered to as many locations as you'd like, while paying only a single bulk delivery fee.

On-site gardens

Add a shared garden to the community campus.

We help all kinds of communities, from residences to non-profits, design, build, and maintain their own gardens for a fun and fruitful addition to their environment. We'll help you find the perfect location, figure out what fruits, veggies, and herbs to grow, and even give you the tools to encourage community involvement.

Work with us

Your Alfreea is whatever you want to make it.

Every community is different. That's why at Alfreea we remain flexible, working with our new clients to develop a custom package that works for them. All of our services can be bundled and adapted in different ways, so let us know what sounds good to you and your team. We'll put together a package for your community that fits your members' needs—and appetite.

Training & Workshops

Teach your community the art of growing and cooking fresh food.

For many, getting hands-on with fresh food is a whole new skill. We run educational events for communities to teach them the joys of farming and making fresh meals. Looking for something in particular? We'll happily customize a program for you and your group.

Sample Courses:

- Besto Pesto Cooking Class
- Ugly Veggies Can Be Beautiful Too
- Integrated Medicine with Dr. Aly Cohen
- Urban Farming 101

The Marketplace

Connect and share land, food, and farm skills.

Our online community marketplace allows your group members to connect with each other and the greater community around them to share land, farming skills, and the food they grow. It's a unique platform that gives people the chance to turn fresh food into a full-time hobby.

Community Engagement

When you introduce a new community initiative, spreading the word and gaining momentum is critical. That's why when you work with Alfreea, we collaborate with your team to boost member engagement in the fresh food movement. We bring the tools to help you market the new offering and incentivize participation, making your job easier while your members get healthier.
